Cripple Creek Sheriff Says the Union Miners Are Responsible for the Many Deaths.

TWO MORE KILLED

The Operators Say It Is an Infernal Machine; But Miners Say It Is an Accident.

(Special by Scripps-McLain.)

Cripple Creek, Colo., Nov. 23.—Sheriff Robertson has declared that he believed the Western Federation of Miners responsible for the deaths of Supt. McCormack and Pit Boss Beck in the Vindicator mine Saturday. This statement followed an investigation of the sixth level of the mine, where, it is said, an infernal machine was placed, to be discharged by the elevator in which the two men were riding. Part of the plot, it is charged, was the wrecking of the shaft.

The military authorities, by order of Gen. Bell, made the following arrests: Charles G. Kennison, W. B. Easterly, W. F. Davis, John Schoolcraft, Gus Johnson, J. P. Isbell, Bob Rowland, Victor Poole, Harry Williams, Ed Fleming, H. P. Jones, Sherman Parker, Frank Chase and Bob Adams. Sherman Parker is chairman of District Union No. 1, strike committee, and Kennison and Davis are also members of that committee. Nearly all of the men arrested are members of the miners' union and are charged, either directly or indirectly, with being accessories in the blowing up of the mine.

Offer Reward of $5,000.

The active committee of the Mine Owners and Operators' association has offered a reward of $5,000 for evidence leading to the arrest and conviction of the perpetrators. In a published statement the committee says: "The killing of Supt. McCormack and Melvin Beck was one of the most diabolical crimes that has ever darkened the annals of Colorado, and is another step in the trail of blood which has been made by the Western Federation of Miners in this state.

"The time has passed for selecting fine terms in which to speak of these matters, and we do not hesitate to say that this crime was devised and executed by the inner circle of this organization.

Derides Accident Theory. "This statement is made only after a careful investigation of the facts which show conclusively that these men met their death through a scheme so cunningly devised and carefully executed as to tax the ingenuity of the most experienced criminal.

"Of late the district has been filling up with the class of men who openly boast of what they propose to do. Not a single circumstance surrounding this crime is compatible with the theory of accident or with any other theory than that of premeditated murder."

Denial by Union Officials. The district executive committee of the Western Federation of Miners characterizes the explosion as a "lamentable accident, regretted by all," and adds:

"But prejudiced individuals, who rarely know anything of what they talk about, have already passed judgment and denounce it as a coldblooded murder. Experience teaches, however, that the people are not above making capital out of any public misfortune."

In consequence of these outrages Gov. Peabody has reinstated Adjutant General Sherman E. Bell in command of the militia in this camp, succeeding Col. Edward Verjeeckshurk, who has been in command since Ball's retirement at the close of the court martial trial of Gen. John Chase.

PORTO RICO IS NOT SATISFIED

Derides Newland's Plan for the Admission of Cuba Making Porto Rico a Province.

San Juan, Porto Rico, Nov. 23.—United States Senator Newland's resolution inviting Cuba to become a state of the United States upon terms of equality with the other states of the union and providing that Porto Rico shall become a province of Cuba has been received with derisions by the Porto Rican press and public. Reciprocity between the United States and Cuba finds general commendation in this island, few believing that it will have any bad effect upon Porto Rican interests.

Objected to Tombstone Paving. Tombstones are not so infrequently employed in different parts of Nottinghamshire, Derbyshire, Lincolnshire and Leicestershire, England, for the purpose of paving; and a year or so back the inhabitants of the Vale of Belvoir raised a vehement protest against their being used for a pathway leading to the parish church.

DESPERATE BURGLARS
TRY TO CUT OFF FINGERS

Young Woman Is Attacked by Two Men, Who Endeavor to Secure Her Diamond Rings.

Marion, Ind., Nov. 23.—Burglars attempted to cut off the fingers of Miss Edith Shippey in an attempt to secure several diamond rings which the young woman wore. Miss Shippey was aroused about 3 o'clock in the morning by two men who were bending over her bedside. One of them seized her hand, upon which were the jewels, and with a long knife attempted to cut off the fingers on which were the gems.

In the meantime the second burglar sought to stifle the girl's outcries by pressing his hand over her mouth. Miss Shippey struggled with the desperation of terror and her screams aroused the household. Hearing the coming of a member of the family the burglars fled. The father of the girl at once notified the local officers and bloodhounds were placed upon the trail. At daylight three men were arrested in a resort near the railway yards, to which vicinity the bloodhounds led the officers. The men will be held for identification. Miss Shippey's fingers are lacerated and she is in a serious condition from the nervous shock. She is the daughter of John Shippey, a wealthy lumber merchant.

Members of the Milwaukee lodges of the Ancient Order of United Workmen who became dissatisfied with the assessments of that organization and determined to form a new order gave impetus to their plan Saturday afternoon by forming the Wisconsin Protective association, electing officers, and appointing committees to draw up by-laws and a constitution. Forty former members of the A. O. U. W., were present at the meeting.

The Burnett county supervisors adjourned Saturday after creating a new town out of the old town of Rusk, to be known as Roosevelt. This gives the county of Burnett four towns named after leading republicans of the state and nation. They are Rusk, Blaine, La Follette and Roosevelt.

As a result of the recent raid on illegal liquor sellers of the village of Grantsburg, three of them are now serving time in the county jail, having been arrested on second charges for the same offense.

LONG ARGUMENT
OVER A FUEL BILL

Case of the Burlington Coal and Coke Company vs. Carpenter, Settled.

The case of the Burlington Coal & Coke company versus W. H. Carpenter of Evansville, which had been pending for over six months was settled out of court this morning after a jury had been drawn in Justice Earle's court. The case was begun on account of a disagreement between the parties over coal which was bought by the defendant last winter.

QUALITY OF THE GRAVEL CAUSES MUCH COMPLAINT

Residents of Center Avenue and Galena Street Have Grievance Against City.

Residents living in the vicinity of the intersection of Center avenue and Galena streets object to the quality of the gravel that has been put on that road since the crossing and filling were installed. They say that the road has been filled in with "soft" that is less than one-half gravel. While the stuff was being taken from the top ground in the First ward and hauled to the locality in question, so the residents claim, they labored under the impression that the city was intending to convert the road into a flower garden.

Lewis and Clark Exposition. The Lewis and Clark fair, planned to be held in Portland, Ore., in the summer of 1905 is to commemorate the centennial of the crossing of the continent by the explorers whom Jefferson induced to undertake the difficult task soon after the completion of his bargain for the Louisiana territory. They went up the Missouri river, crossed the Rocky mountains and followed down the course of the Columbia river to the Pacific.

Tramps Stop Train. Terre Haute, Ind., Nov. 23.—Passenger train No. 11 on the Vandalla railroad, due here at 10:10 p. m., was stopped just west of Ben Davis, Ind., at 9:15. Two tramps compelled the brakeman, at the point of a revolver, to signal the engineer to stop so they could make a meal. The train was held for some time, but the tramps were finally driven off. The engineer was told to proceed to business.

Charges of Cruelty Made Against Attendants in Insane Asylum. Waterloo, N. Y., Nov. 23.—Charges of cruelty to insane patients in the Manhattan state hospital on Ward's island, in New York, are made by Miss Elizabeth Knauss of Waterloo, who has just returned after spending two weeks as an attendant in that institution. "Alternate doses of violence and what they call 'sedatives' accurately describe the method of treatment of refractory inmates," she says. "I have seen patients choked until they were black in the face. That is more common than blows, for the latter would cause bruises. Sedatives containing laudanum are used to quiet the patients when the insane fits are most severe. These quieting doses are given freely."

WHAT CONGRESS IS LIKELY TO DO

SENATE WAITS ACTION OF THE HOUSE.

EXPECTS TO CLOSE VERY SOON

Unless Some Agreement Is Reached, an Adjournment May Come Tomorrow, Until Friday.

(Special by Scripps-McLain.)

Washington, Nov. 23.—Uncertainty will mark the deliberations of the senate during the week. A majority of the members are anxious to bring the extra session to a close, but the partial agreement to vote Dec. 16 on the Cuban reciprocity bill has not been ratified by the house. Pending a definite agreement the senate will remain unsettled. Failing to reach an agreement, the senate will adjourn for three days at a time, and speeches may be made on the Cuban bill with the understanding that no other business will be taken up. After being reported to-day the Cuban bill will lie on the table for a day, unless there is unanimous consent that its consideration shall begin immediately. When it is taken up Senator Cullum will explain briefly its merits. It is likely there will be a reassignment of senators to committees, in which Senator Morgan of Alabama will be displaced as chairman of the committee on isthmian canals. His speech on this action is awaited with considerable interest.

MUCH RIOTING ALONG CAR LINES IN CHICAGO TODAY

Starting of the State Street Line Causes Redoubled Efforts of the Mob.

(Special by Scripps-McLain.) Chicago, Nov. 23.—The operation of the State street line was the cause for redoubled scenes of violence for the strike sympathizers. Obstructions were placed on the car tracks and the police were forced to use their pistols before they could drive the mob away. A live wire was cut in one place and left dangling and a horse killed by contact with it. Attorneys for the strikers and railway say a settlement has been reached but it may not be satisfactory.

One on the Lawyer. Counsel (to witness)—How can you prove that the prisoner stole six of your handkerchiefs? "Why, because they were found on him. Look at them for yourself. They are exactly the same as mine." "That proves nothing. I have some handkerchiefs like those." "That's quite possible," replied the witness, "several more of mine are missing."

WIFE HELPS HUSBAND TO FIGHT THE POLICE

Calls on Officers to Protect Her From Spouse and Then Recants Interference on Their Part.

(Special by Scripps-McLain.) Arcola, Ill., Nov. 23.—Ex-Policeman James Hudson, who murdered Thomas Spellman here Aug. 2, went on the warpath again Saturday night and after a desperate battle with the police, during which several shots were fired and Hudson was severely wounded, he escaped and barricaded himself in his own home, where for four hours, with gun and revolver, he defied not only the police, but the entire town.

The officers had endeavored to arrest him on complaint of his wife and little daughter, who said he had tried to kill them, but in the melee the wife turned against the officers and seized a knife, severely wounding Policeman Robinson in the arm. Officer Craft finally forced his way into the house and beat Hudson with his club until blood streamed from his head.

Dr. Barbour was called to dress his wounds, but upon his arrival at the house Hudson sprang to his feet, seized a shotgun and covered the doctor with it. The police were again driven out and the doctor, fearing to return to town for medicine, escaped. At midnight Hudson left his home, armed with a shotgun, but was discovered and arrested.

Panama, Nov. 23.—A message from Guatemala states that President Cabrera this morning opened thirty miles more of the Pan-American railway in Guatemala, leaving only about 100 miles yet to be built, chiefly in Mexico, to connect New York with Guatemala City. Guatemalans generally welcome the opening of railway communication with the United States.

COSSACK WANTS HIS CASH BAD

Will Wait in the City Until Cases Are Settled in the Circuit Court.

(Special by Scripps-McLain.)

Alexis Georgian, chief of the troop of Cossacks, who were with the Luelin Forepaugh Fish Wild West show when the aggregation went to places in Janesville last summer is in the city waiting for his claim against the show to be settled. The cases including his will come up in the circuit court in the near future. The claim of Alexis Georgian is one of the largest labor bills against the show and is in the vicinity of $1000. The Cossack has been staying at the Grand hotel for several days and will remain in the city until the claims are settled. After the first of the year he expects to sign with another show.

WOODS' ARMY IN A LONG BATTLE

Three Hundred Moros Out of Two Thousand Engaged, Are Left for Dead.

AMBUSH COMPLETE

The Leader, After Being Captured, Leads Americans Into an Ambuscade—

Fierce Fighting.

(Special by Scripps-McLain.)

Manila, Nov. 23.—Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood and two battalions of the Twenty-eighth infantry fought a five days' battle with 2,000 Moros, near Siet lake, on the island of Jolo, from Nov. 12 until Nov. 17. Three hundred Moros are known to have been killed, while many others were carried, dead or wounded, from the field.

No Americans were killed. Maj. H. L. Scott of the Fourteenth cavalry and five infantrymen were wounded.

Maj. Gen. Wood landed near Siet lake, in Jolo, on Nov. 12. The Moros were soon located, and fighting began immediately and continued until Nov. 17.

Maj. Scott was taking Panglima Hassan, the Moro leader, who had been taken a prisoner, to Jolo. While en route Hassan asked to be allowed to see his family. His appeal was granted, and he thereupon led Maj. Scott into an ambuscade where the American detachment was fired upon. Maj. Scott was shot in both hands. Hassan succeeded in escaping during this unexpected attack, but is supposed to have been killed the following day.

Leads Captors Into Ambush. The fighting took place in a country covered with swamps and rocks. The Moros were driven across the country from Siet lake to the town which Hassan had made his headquarters, and where it was reported the Moros were 2,000 strong.

Attack the Rebels. The rebel position was attacked in the flank by the American troops, who occupied the town, and inflicted a loss of fifty killed on the Moros. Hassan, with a small party, surrendered.

The rest of the Moros went into the swamps out of which they were driven on Nov. 16, leaving seventy-six dead behind them.

On Nov. 17 the American forces renewed the attack on the remaining Moros, of whom forty were killed. The rebel forces have been literally destroyed by these operations by Maj. Gen. Wood, who says the indications are that there will be no extension of the uprising, which was handled without difficulty.

Goos After Moros. On Nov. 18 Gen. Wood started on an expedition against a body of 2,000 Moros, who are in the mountains back of Tablibi. No news has as yet been received as to the result of this movement.

Gen. Wood has under him two battalions of the Twenty-eighth regiment, one of the Twenty-third regiment, a platoon of Capt. George E. Slatley's battery, two troops of the Fourteenth cavalry and a detachment of engineers.

Maj. Scott is assisted with a force composed of three companies of the Seventeenth infantry, a platoon of Capt. D. J. Rumbaugh's battery and a troop of the Fourteenth cavalry.

Slam Marriage Customs. In Slam girls get married at about fourteen, and men at about twenty. When a young man is in love he gets an old woman to propose for him. The proposal is made to the girl's parents, and not to herself. The chances are she has never seen her would-be husband.

BRISK TRADE
IN OLD LEAF

OVER 1,100 CASES SOLD BY JAMESVILLE PACKERS LAST WEEK.

THE MARKET IS STILL FIRM

In Spite of Threatening Conditions in Financial Circles—Acreage in Wisconsin Alone, Increased.

Some thirty carloads of tobacco, amounting in all to about 1,400 cases, were shipped out of storage from all points during the week just ended. Among the number were eight carloads shipped by the Messrs. Green. Besides George Decker's sale of 400 cases of '01 to the Tuckett Cigar Co., of Hamilton, Ontario, which has already been recorded in these pages, T. E. Welsh of this city sold 600 cases of 1902 leaf to the United Cigar Co., the deal involving some $30,000. S. B. Heddesly sold 180 cases of '02 to a Cincinnati firm, Fred Eckhart of Virgoqua sold 1,600 cases of 1902 to E. Rosenwald & Bro. of New York. C. J. Hespard & Co. of Oronville disposed of 337 cases of '02, the buyer being L. Well. Each Trade in Old Leaf

A number of smaller trades helps bring up the week's business much above the average. Packers are not experiencing much difficulty in obtaining very fair prices for the sound portions of their holdings of '02, much better than the profits in '01 goods yield. E. A. Kerbs and W. S. Brill of the United Cigar manufacturers arrived from New York last week and some further movement in old goods may be expected. Growers have their work so well along that the first casing weather will see quite a large portion of the new crop removed from the poles for stripping.

East Horizon Clouded
Reports of the New York markets were anything but reassuring last week. The upheaval caused by the most stunning string of failures ever recorded in the trade in a week's time preoccupied the attention of the market to the exclusion of almost everything else. But it did not cause any demoralization; it did not affect values, nor did it even arrest the activity which has been in such full swing for the past two months. For the failures were rather the result of high financing than of any disturbances in the trade or lack of confidence in the continued prosperity of the cigar industry.

Market Remains Sound
The market remains sound, both as to its financial condition and its business prospects. For in spite of the catastrophe that held the attention of the market captive, the volume of business done suffered but little. Considerable quantities of seed leaf, both of Wisconsin and Pennsylvania moved off, as if nothing had happened to disturb the equilibrium of the market, and trade in Havana and Sumatra was likewise strong.

The Total Crop
The total cigar leaf crop of this year will fall considerably short of that produced in 1902. Not only is the total acreage less, but the yield per acre is lighter. Quality, while more or less uneven in all sections, is fully as good as, and even better than the 1902 crop. In New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio the quality is much superior.

Wisconsin Acreage
Reports received by the New England Homestead during the past two weeks from well informed correspondents in all the leading sections of New York, Wisconsin, New England, Pennsylvania and Ohio show Wisconsin is the only state which increased its acreage. The greatest decrease in any one state has taken place in New York, where growers appear to be losing interest in the crop. This is largely due to low prices received during the last few years. The Ohio acreage shows a total reduction of 10 to 15 per cent, due in part to cold, wet weather, which delayed transplanting, also lack of plants, and to a poor stand after setting. In Pennsylvania the total acreage is much the same as last year.

The Average Yield
In New England crops ranged from 1100 to 1800 pounds per acre, but the average is not likely to much exceed 1400 pounds. New York crops will likely run 1300 to 1400 pounds, and Ohio 1000. So few crops have been taken from the poles that estimates of this nature are necessarily largely surmises at this early date in the distribution of the crop of 1903. The season, however, has been so favorable for curing, and as shed damage has been light, figures given may be pretty safely taken as at least approximately correct.

A Departed Pioneer
The funeral services of the late Orrin Pomeroy were held Saturday afternoon at his home in the town of Fulton. Rev. Richard M. Vaughan of this city officiated. Mr. Pomeroy was born June 29, 1816, in Suffield, Conn. When 23 years of age he removed to Ohio. He came to Wisconsin in 1853 and settled in the town of Fulton where he resided until his death. In 1868 he was married to Miss Amelia Wood, who still lives to mourn his death. Two children also survive him, Mrs. Fred E. Fago of Fulton, and Mrs. William Grove of Janesville. Mr. Pomeroy was a resident of our city, a brother of the deceased. Mr. Pomeroy lived to the ripe age of 87 years. Until two years ago his health was vigorous. Of late, however, he gradually failed, and his death was due to a general breakdown and a form of apoplexy. He was a man of sterling character, who commanded by his integrity and kindness of heart the respect and love of all who knew him.

IRRIGATION IN STATE OF NEVADA

WOULD RECLAIM MANY THOUSAND ACRES OF LAND.

SAVE AWAY THE VERY BEST

Stockmen Were the Schemers Who Took the Pick of the Lands Years Ago.

The first government irrigation work undertaken, now in progress in Nevada, promises an unprecedented development for that state, in area three times the size of Indiana but with a present population scarcely sufficient for a single county. In speaking of the government irrigation program before the National Geographic Society at Washington the other evening Frederick H. Newell, the national hydrographer said: "If the works are well administered and the irrigation fund carefully preserved, it will be possible to bring about a great development of the west and to make homes for thousands of families. For example, if instead of 40,000 people in Nevada, 400,000 can find prosperous homes, the conditions of internal trade and commerce may be vitally altered."

Federal Law
As a matter of fact the federal irrigation law means more to Nevada than to any other state in the Union, and her history is one which can be studied with profit by those who are searching for light on the question of proper administration of the public domain. Nevada, since her admission, has never proceeded upon the theory that her lands should be preserved for home builders, and the result is that the population of the whole state while hardly that of a decent sized city, is yet at a standstill and will continue to remain so until farm lands are thrown open to settlement in small tracts through government irrigation.

2,000,000 Acres
When Nevada was admitted to the Union, in place of receiving the usual donation of alternate sections 16 and 36 in every township, to be used or sold for educational purposes, she secured a flat grant from the government of 2,000,000 acres of public land to be located anywhere her law makers saw fit. A quick acting legislature passed the bulk of this great and valuable domain into the private ownership of stock men without any material benefit to the state to which its citizens can now point. These lands are located up and down the sides of every river and stream and surrounding every spring and water hole in the state. So that while Nevada, today has some 60,000 acres of public land, there is not a quarter section of it upon which a homesteader could make a living. The land granted to the state for school purposes—disposed of by the state for a mess of pottage, controls the balance of the state.

Good Example
The government plans, when worked out in their entirety, in Nevada will reclaim something like 3,000,000 acres, which will provide a new life blood of settlement and citizenship for this region of naturally great agricultural possibilities.

Nevada affords an excellent example of land stealing. It was done legally but it was stealing. So under our present land laws, with the exception of the Homestead law, great areas are being taken under them, and except in such cases as have recently come to light under the Timber law, they are being legally taken. Nevertheless they are steals—steals against the people of the country, and the people would do well to instruct congress to shut them off through a quick repeal of such laws.

Land Laws Need Drastic Action.
The unexpectedly large sum of $15,000,000 available for government irrigation works with the irrigation law only one year upon the statute books has caused a great activity in the western states to secure the construction of the dams and ditches in the various localities. This is well, and the opening of these lands to homes will add to the national wealth and benefit the whole country, but the necessity is now seen for some additional legislation to prevent the land which the government proposes to irrigate from first getting into the hands of the speculators, otherwise the charge may be very justly made that government appropriations are being spent mostly for the benefit of the land dealers, speculators and live stock interests.

No One's Fault
The fault is not in the administration of the laws. The laws themselves are structurally and fundamentally wrong. They cannot be administered and they cannot be amended so as to prevent these abuses. The Desert Land Act, especially violates the basic principle of the whole national irrigation movement which is that no one shall have an acre of the public land who will not found a home under the original homestead act. If we are to save the public lands for those who will found homes upon them, and prevent their being used for speculation to the detriment of the country, Congress must effect prompt repeal.

FOOTBALL TITLE IS STILL IN DOUBT

Four Western Teams Yet Have a Fair Claim to the Honor.

In speaking of the football situation the Chicago Chronicle says: "After Saturday's battles on the gridiron the situation in the west remains exactly the same as it was three weeks ago. Probably never in the history of football have the conditions in the west been so complicated. Three weeks ago Saturday Chicago beat Wisconsin at Madison and put that one big school out of the running. That left four colleges to battle for the western championship—Chicago, Michigan, Minnesota and Northwestern."

The same four colleges are still in the fighting today with practically no changes in the situation unless one lets the differences in scores count in deciding. As it looks now the season will have to point to one institution and say: "There is the champion team of the west." There is, however, one possibility that might give one team a clean title. That team is Yost's Wolverines. Michigan has the only eleven in which there is a possibility of having the western honors without being defeated by some rival.

Cannot Get a Clear Title
However, the possibility that the Ann Arbor eleven is so doubtful that no one, not even the supporters of the maize and blue, are considering it. Two difficulties would have to be overcome. One is that the Michigan team defeat Stagg's maroons Thursday at Marshall field. That is not so great and the rosters at Ann Arbor will have plenty of money to back up their team in the event. The other is that Wisconsin, which has lost to Chicago and Michigan and tied with Northwestern, defeat Minnesota at Madison this week. The latter difficulty is too great to be considered by any of the followers of the game.

The team from the Badger school, however, is admired by all who have seen it play this fall and everyone must consider that it has probably had more than its share of what is known as "bad football luck." The first big game that Curtis' men lost was with Chicago Oct. 31. Up to that time they had met only secondary teams and had easily disposed of them all. Even the Chicago rosters who went to Madison then had to admit that their team was outplayed by the Badgers as far as straight football was concerned. But Eckersall won the game for the maroons. In the Michigan game the Badgers again were the sufferers and lost much on fumbles, the cause of which could not be placed on any one man. It was the general opinion, however, of those who saw the game that the Michigan team was a trifle the stronger and deserved the victory, but not by such a large score as 16 to 0.

MYERS HOTEL TO BE ENTIRELY

Remodeled, If the Present Plans, Secured by Promoters, Are Accepted.

Hayes Brothers have in their possession, complete plans for the proposed remodeling of the Hotel Myers which were executed by the Chicago firm of Hill & Walderdorf. If these plans are accepted and carried out it will mean that the cost of remodeling the present structure will be in the neighborhood of $30,000 and will result in a total outlay of about $70,000.

When asked this morning, whether further settlements of the deal had taken place, this morning, Mr. Hayes stated that nothing more had as yet been done. The entire basement and first floor are to be changed around, according to the plans.

At the corner of South Main and Milwaukee streets, what is now the lobby will be partly divided off and the apartment used as a store. The dimensions will be 20x40 feet, with an entrance on South Main St. The dining room will be on the first floor and just south of the present hotel office. It will occupy the space now used as stores and rented by Klenow & Curtis and Riker Bros. Office entrances are planned for both Milwaukee and Main streets and will be in about the same positions as the present ones.

In the basement will be the buffet and restaurant. The dimensions of these rooms will be 88x64 feet. The barber shop will be located directly in the rear of the main office. In the rear of the dining room, which will be artistically decorated and perhaps one of the most attractive rooms in the building, will be the serving room and back of this a spacious kitchen. A court will open from the top of the building to the office, admitting light to every room in the structure. This opening will be 28x70 feet. There will be fifty-six sleeping rooms and on the second, third and fourth floors there will be altogether twenty bed rooms fitted with baths.

Ten thousand artisans affiliated with the Pennsylvania building trades are locked out. The number will probably be increased to 20,000 this week. It is estimated that over $4,000,000 of new building contracts in Pittsburgh have been postponed on account of restlessness and strike tendencies of various unions employed on construction work.

At Tuesday morning's session of the American Federation of Labor, in Boston, the law committee reported unfavorably on the suggestion that an expert accountant be employed once each six months to audit the accounts of the American Federation of Labor, and report to all affiliated unions. The report was concurred in. A resolution which sought to open the way for a discussion of socialistic questions by the convention was reported unfavorably and the report was sustained.

When your hair begins to fall out and your scalp is full of dandruff it is a sure sign that these countless germs are at work.

MOLASSES FOR HORSES

Recently scientific tests have been made as to what is the best feed for horses that are unthrifty. Instead of feeding them oats or timothy hay, it is given with the most gratifying results. A horse that weighed 800 pounds gained 40 pounds in two weeks on a molasses diet, and in a month he had a dead nearly 100 pounds to his weight. All signs of disease disappeared and his new coat of hair was glossy and beautiful. This experiment was but one of hundreds all showing the wonderful curative and health giving properties of Molasses Food. Farmers, livermen and others who own horses should give the Molasses Food a trial. It is cheap, and if as represented by scientists, it can be used to rebuild run-down horses, it will prove invaluable to owners of horse flesh. This feed for sale at

...Forty Years Ago...

Janesville Daily Gazette, Monday, November 23, 1863.—The Boston Transcript has opened up the question as to whether the Apostle Paul was a widower. It says that the query was once made in its columns, and a correspondent stated "some reasons for the affirmative, which are as yet unanswered. It may not be amiss to mention, that Ignatius, the bishop of Antioch, A. D. 69, in one of his epistles to the primitive church states that St. Paul had been married, and Clement says the same in the third book of his ecclesiastical history. Eusebius, another of the Christian fathers, also says St. Paul was a widower.

The bridal presents given to Miss Kate Chase, now Mrs. Sprague, are valued at $60,000. Kate has made a good market.

Sharpshooting. — B. F. Taylor, of the Chicago Journal, has the following allusion to sharpshooting in the army:

Sharpshooting is the squirrel hunting of the war, and it is wonderful how utterly forgetful of self the marksmen grow; with what sportsmanlike eyes they watch the grand er game, and with what coolness and accuracy they bring it down. I find, however, that indifferent as men become to human life, they have the most vivid and minute remembrance of the first man they brought down with a deliberate aim.

Hackenschmidt, the Noted Russian Wrestler & Oarsman Greer May Retire.

George Hackenschmidt, the famous Russian heavy weight wrestler, who is to invade the United States during the winter to seek matches with our leading men in his class, is probably the most formidable mat performer in existence. He is as strong as a bull, has considerable science and weighs more than 250 pounds.

Hackenschmidt is an ex-iron worker. He has astonished practically all of Europe by his feats of strength and is as yet undefeated.

He desires above everything to try conclusions with Tom Jenkins, the American heavy weight champion. Jenkins' reputation has aroused Hackenschmidt's jealousy. Jenkins is the more scientific performer of the two, but the Russian's wonderful muscular power and greater weight may make it possible for him to defeat Jenkins.

Frank B. Greer, after winning the amateur rowing championship at the national regatta on Lake Quinsigamond, Worcester, Mass., last August, announced that he would probably have to give up the sport, as the expense of training and the loss of time from business were more than he could bear. The East Boston sculler has not changed his mind since, and unless suitable arrangements or inducements are offered to him the champion says he will be compelled to stick to his railroad work and let rowing alone.

Greer contents it was the lack of preparation that caused his defeat by C. S. Titus at Worcester in 1902. Last season, however, he was enabled to give the necessary time to his training, and an easy victory over both Titus and Vesely was the result.

Greer has no intention of becoming a professional, although he believes he can defeat any oarsman in America and probably any one in the world. He will remain in the amateur ranks if he rows at all next year. The champion is quite anxious to compete at the international regatta at St. Louis in 1904, and would like to race in the English Henley, but so far as the latter event is concerned he is of the opinion that his entry would be refused, because he has to work for a living.

If Greer stops rowing his place in the amateur ranks will be difficult to fill. He is generally credited with being the best amateur sculler American has ever produced, barring Edward Hanlan and Ten Eyck, and his time of 9m. 30/100s. for one mile and a half with a turn, made at Worcester last August, is a record that is likely to remain unbroken in this country for many years.

The champion rows under the colors of the East Boston A. A. Boat club, which recently presented a handsome diamond ring to him. Greer comes from a rowing family, two of his brothers, Jim and Joe, being crack oarsmen.

NO MORE LINE HURDLING.

Football Players Find This Feature Ineffective.

Line hurdling is scarce in football this season. Few coaches are developing head toppers. As a rule, hurdling necessity is caused by an ineffectual line, one not well developed in the charging business. Even with an opponent low to the ground a quick charging line man can hit him and swing him over a foot or so every time, particularly with a clever use of the hands, out of the umpire's sight.

Where the men are equally fast, both charging low, they usually come up in the air. This leaves a tall line impossible to hurdle. In such a charge it is hard to see how a line man can be efficient without coming up. Should he go down lower than he starts he falls in a huddled, useless mass and tangles with his opponent and is well out of the play. Up on his feet still, with the use of his hands he can readily shake a man off and dive to either side of him to intercept the plunging play.

So it would seem that an energetic line man on to his game need never fear an opponent hurdling him.

ATTEMPT TO ROB THE FAST MAIL

Two Men Force Train to Stop After They Are Found in Cars.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 23.—Detectives of the Vandalla Railroad are searching for two men who, it is believed, meant to rob the fast mail train and who at the point of a revolver compelled the brakeman to stop the train after they had been discovered in the mail car. They disappeared after the train stopped and a short time afterward held up the Vandalla watchman at Eagle Creek and robbed him of his watch and money. The train was stopped near Ben Davis, between here and Terre Haute. It is believed the object of the men was to loot the registered mail.

OUR TRADE WITH CUBA

The trade relations between the United States and Cuba present and past are the subject of a document just issued by the Department of Bureau of Statistics. The United States' imports from Cuba have always exceeded in value the United States' exports to Cuba. This fact has been due to a lack of appreciation of the United States products and merchandise on the part of the Cubans, nor yet to a lack of purchasing power on their part, but rather to the fact that Cuba has happened to be the producer of two great staples of commerce and trade which are and ever have been in active and almost universal demand in the United States, namely, sugar, and tobacco. If it were not for these staples the balance of trade between the United States and Cuba would show a record against Cuba instead of against the United States.

The volume of trade between the two countries and the ratio of imports to exports have been subject to many and wide fluctuations, and the trade has not been as steadily progressive in character as is usual between nations at peace with each other and closely connected in business relations, as, for example, in the case of the trade of the United States with the United Kingdom or with Germany.

The total trade between the two countries was in round numbers $25,000,000 in 1855, $31,000,000 in 1856, $34,000,000 in 1857, and only $34,000,000 in 1858. In 1872 it had advanced to $80,000,000, and in 1874 to $105,000,000 (the largest on record), only to recede again in 1875 to $80,000,000 in 1878 it declined to $65,000,000, in 1882 advanced to $72,000,000, and in 1885 fell back to $51,000,000. In 1893 it reached $103,000,000 but in 1898 was only $21,000,000, and has now in 1903 crept to $34,000,000.

Further examination shows surprising variations in the ratio of exports and imports. The ratio of the domestic exports from the United States to Cuba, as compared with the United States imports therefrom, was in 1851 about 1 to 3; in 1857, about 1 to 5; in 1858, about 1 to 2; in 1859, about 1 to 3; in 1865, about 3 to 5; in 1869, about 2 to 9; in 1872, about 1 to 5; in 1882, about 1 to 6; in 1893, about 1 to 3; in 1896, about 2 to 11; in 1898, about 2 to 3; in 1899, about 3 to 4; in 1900, about 5 to 6, and in 1903, about 1 to 3 again.

These fluctuations in the Cuban trade have been due mainly to four causes: (1) Occasional revolutions and wars in Cuba; (2) occasional injuries to Cuban crops by hurricane and droughts; (3) variations in the market prices of sugar and tobacco; and (4) change in the tariffs of the two countries.

Thus, taking the case of sugar as the most important item in Cuban trade and commerce, the tables show great differences, both in the size of the crops and in the values of the sugar exported from the island. The differences in the size of the crops have been owing in the main, partly to internal disturbances and partly to unfavorable weather conditions.

DIVISION OF LABOR

The census of 1900 shows that all classes of employees in the United States number 29,200,000 including women as well as men, of this number 10,400,000 are engaged in agricultural pursuits and about 7,000,000 are following mechanical and manufacturing pursuits. One million women are represented in the later class.

In domestic and personal service about five and one-half million are employed and about one million less in transportation and retail trade, while something over one million are engaged in professional service. It will be readily seen from the figures that organized labor, less than 2,000,000 strong, finds its recruits very largely in the manufacturing class, and it does not require the vision of a prophet to discover that it will never make successful inroads on any other class.

The largest single class is represented by the farmer his sons, and the "hired man." They all work from "sun up to sun down" and then complain because the days are too short.

Of the large class employed in domestic service, the patent maid has long since discovered that "a woman's work is never done." She is content with her lot and says but little about a "9 hour day."

Men employed by transportation companies, in the operating department may belong to unions, but their obligations seldom interfere with their work and they never waste time in waiting for the dinner bell or five o'clock whistle. The world's great work shop, where more than one third of the population is employed, is an open shop and always will be. When the comparative cost of organized labor recognizes this fact, and governs itself accordingly, labor disturbances will cease.

Senator Smoot, of Utah is discovering that his troubles have just commenced. The ladies of Washington under direction of senators wives, propose to make life interesting for the Utah member. Mormonism and official life are not good mixers.

The woods are full of congressional timber up in the third district. Mr. Babcock is likely to have a run for his money, but he is a hard man to beat and especially on an issue that has nothing back of it but a factional fight.

The Milwaukee Free Press is devoting column after column to abuse of Congressman Babcock. This is indicating what the policy of the administration will be in dealing with Congressional districts. Mr. Cooper has so consistently occupied the fence that he is out of danger.

The republicans of the state now have a choice of candidates for governor. Judge Baensch, of Manitowish, and ex-Congressman Cook, of Neenah are both in the field as non-factional candidates. Both are good men, and the selection of either would mean harmony to the party.

Recognition of the union is the home of contention in the Chicago Street car strike. There is more sentiment than sense about this sort of a claim and some of the men contending for it will be recognizing necessities and hard times before the winter is over.

There is no limit to what may be accomplished by the liberal use of printer's ink. John Wannamaker attributes his success to intelligent and persistent advertising. It always brings results and is a sure winner.

It is rumored that Congressman Cooper aspires to Senator Quarles' seat in the senate and that he has the permission of the governor to go ahead. That ought to be worth something.

The Milwaukee Journal will now engage in another guessing contest and the people will soon have the opportunity to know who will be the next governor. It is safe to gamble that he won't be a democrat.

There is plenty of room at the top for the men who lay good foundations and then persistently build, but there is no short cut to fame or success and no schedule of either time or price is ever recognized.

Mrs. Nation shares the fate of the common crank at the White House. Serves her right.

BAENSCH'S CANDIDACY.

Appleton Post: With such a nomination for governor who will command the united and cordial support of all republicans, other matters of controversy ought to be found easy of adjustment. The voters are already thoroughly informed concerning the pending change in our nominating system and are therefore competent to decide the question without any further agitation. Under such a governor as Judge Baensch question without any further agitation.

Fond du Lac Commonwealth: The need of a candidate on whom the members of all factions might unite has been apparent for some time. Judge Baensch meets these requirements. In Fond du Lac county his candidacy will be cordially welcomed.

Oshkosh Northwestern: In fact none can say it is a case of the man seeking office, for the evidences are plentiful that a large number of Wisconsin republicans believe that a change in governor next year is absolutely essential for the good of the party and of the state, and among all the names which have been mentioned for the place none has been received with more favor and enthusiasm than that of Judge Baensch.

Waukesha Freeman: Mr. Baensch is an able man and we have long thought he would make a good governor, but we do not look upon him as a mailed warrior eager for the fray. On the contrary, we regard Mr. Baensch as a man of peace and we shall expect the white winged dove to be at least in sight before he takes command.

Evening Wisconsin: Judge Baensch is a man of character, ability and experience in public life. He has served with credit as a county judge and as lieutenant-governor of the state. He has made upon those of his fellow citizens with whom he has come into contact an impression of solidity of judgment and of reserved power. He is in the prime of manhood, a thoughtful, eloquent speaker, and an effective campaigner. Now that he has come out, the republican party knows definitely that it can call him for its standard bearer if it wants him.

Milwaukee Journal: The announcement of the candidacy of ex-Judge, Gov. Emil Baensch of Manitowish, for governor has a sobering effect on the Half-Breed politicians. The usual wild denunciation of anything and anybody that isn't in full accord with the administration is missing. It might almost be said that his decision to enter the race is treated with respect. Still it is probably safe to say that when they get their second wind the judge will appear as a corporation tool and all the rest of it.

Waukegan Post: Mr. Baensch is a candidate who should command the support of every good republican, and particularly those who place welfare of the party above the ambitions of any one man and who desire that there shall be an end to the present factional disturbances, which, if allowed to continue, might defeat the party at the polls.

Neenah Republican: The most important political news of the week is the announcement that former Lieut. Gov. Emil Baensch, of Manitowish, had authorized the announcement of his candidacy for governor on the republican ticket, which was made through the columns of the daily Germania. Judge Baensch is one of the strong, able men of the state and with a record that is clean and good.

La Crosse Chronicle: Former Lt. Gov. Baensch is a man upon whom the diversified elements of the republican party antagonistic to the third term candidacy of Robert M. La Follette may safely centralize.

Hartford Press: Judge Baensch, of Manitowish, as a new candidate for governor on the republican ticket, seems to meet with favorable mention on all sides. We must, however, except the Milwaukee Free Press, which is so lost in La Follette as to be unable to see that any other man possesses any quality that will enable him to fill the place in which the governor seems to have settled down for a comfortable and indefinite stay.

PRESS COMMENT.

Minneapolis Times: Come to think of it, the government of Panama is pretty sure to be stable as that of Colombia and a good deal more accommodating.

Chicago News: There is even less gambling now than there was when there was no gambling in Chicago, according to the chief of police.

Philadelphia Press: Yes, the Duke of Roxburgh now accents his name on the first syllable.

St. Louis Globe Democrat: Turkey is scarce, say the dealers in them, and so thin you can see through them. So are the stories of scarcity started every year just before Thanksgiving.

Atlanta Journal: The man who left $1,000,000 to Harvard university and cut off his own sons with $100 a year must have loved the other men's sons more than own.

Denver Republican: Clearly Mr. Morgan's supremacy of the sea is not what it once was, when a common ferryboat can ram his Corsair.

Atlanta Journal: The Baltimore girl who married two men and then lost both husbands through a decree of her church can console herself with reflection that she at least gave matrimony a thorough test before stamping it a failure.

Mobile, Ala. Register: Confederate money seems to be having a good circulation in some parts of the country judging from reports in the papers of people who are accepting it in payment of railroad tickets, groceries and other commodities.

Evening Wisconsin: There is now so much coal in Milwaukee that even the agents are compelled to abandon the habit of predicting a famine. Everybody can get coal this winter. If he has the price, which is higher than it ought to be because of the completeness of the existing combination.

JANESVILLE MAN IS INTERESTED

ARTHUR STERICKER HAS GONE INTO SHEEP BUSINESS.

FATTEN LAMBS BY THOUSAND

Fay & Stericker Now Own the Long Brothers' Big Pens in an Illinois Town.

Twelve thousand lambs in two immense barns is a sight not often seen in Wisconsin or Illinois for the flocks in this section of the country are considerably smaller in size than those that roam over the western ranges and the great southwest, but that number of young sheep can be housed in the big sheds of Fay and Stericker at Sycamore, Illinois. A year ago Arthur Stericker of this city, the well known horse breeder and stock buyer, with Mr. Fay, of Sycamore, purchased the sheep sheds of Long Brothers at Sycamore and started in the sheep feeding business.

Largest in Illinois These sheep-feeding pens, are probably the largest in the state. There are two separate barns, each eighty by fifty yards in length and width. Above the pens are hay lofts and all grain is kept in self-feeders so that the amount of labor required is small.

Spring Lambs All of the animals at present in the plant are spring lambs and came from New Mexico. They have secured from the northern part of the state and driven into southern Colorado where they were shipped to Illinois. The number of lambs in the pens during the week just passed was over eleven thousand and there are several lots en route, some of which will arrive this week. One bunch is now at Lincoln, Neb.

Stericker in Charge Mr. Fay does most of the buying for the firm and Mr. Stericker attends to this end of the work. As soon as the lambs are in the right condition and heavy enough, and the market is at the best they are shipped into Chicago and sold.

No Pens Here Earlier in the year it was planned to have a branch feeding station near Janesville, but later this idea was given up for the present. It is the plan of the gentlemen in charge to feed sheep for other growers in time but as yet they only feed their own animals. The lambs are given screenings and each day consume a great quantity of the grain and hay.

"BURIED AT SEA" IS A "THRILLER"

Walter Allen Equals the Count of Monte Cristo's Fate in Escaping Watery Grave—Small House.

Theodore Kremer's "Buried at Sea" possesses some dramatic situations that are calculated to regale Lincoln J. Carter's "Fast Mail" and "Tornado" to the king of melodramas, should any comparison be made. In the third act of the play the hero, Walter Allen, through the machinations of Clementine Prescott who is driven to madness through unrequited love, and Gilmore Taylor who wishes to make Allen's wife a widow and marry her fortune, is poisoned on shipboard. There is an affecting deathbed scene, during which Allen, who has mistaken Taylor for a friend, commands his wife to marry him after his demise. Soon after, to all intents and purposes, he expires.

The next scene presents a funeral on the first deck of the Campanila. Funerals are not held on the decks of the Campanila or any other first class transatlantic passenger boat, but this case was an exception. The chaplain reads the burial service and four brown sailors consign the body to the waves, flag and all. A short time prior to the funeral the villain has purchased a beer-keg of the steward and placing a note inside, has tossed it overboard.

The next scene depicts a raging sea in all its "clothy" madness. Away in the background the supposed dead man who ought to have sunk by the laws of gravity is swimming for dear life. He reaches the keg and breathes a sigh of relief as the curtain falls.

The last act finds our hero a beggar on the streets of London. He has lost his memory but it suddenly comes back to him when he confronts his wife at the door of a church which she is about to enter to go through the marriage ceremony with the villain, Taylor. A policeman is handy by and all ends to the complete satisfaction of the gallery. Orval Humphrey as the hero and Evelyn Wynne as the "villainess" were fairly good. Baby Dolly as "Little Emma" was one of the best in the cast. The house was a small one.

BOOHER SECURES DIVORCE.

Deserted By Wife A Year After Marriage He Wants To Try Again Daniel Booher has secured a divorce from his wife on the grounds of "desertion," claiming that a year after he was married in Whitewater, his better half left him and he has never heard from her since. He was also granted permission to remarry inside of a year.

IMPORTANT CASE IS DECIDED TODAY

FARMERS MUST KEEP FENCES IN GOOD REPAIR.

YOUNG COW CASE IS ENDED

His Fence Let His Cattle on the Electric Road's Right of Way.

The case of Gordon Young versus Beloit, Delavan Lake and Janesville Railway company, which was on trial in the circuit court last Saturday, was decided in favor of the defendant. The jury was out about one-half an hour.

The Evidence The evidence disclosed that May 27, last, about 7:30 o'clock in the morning, a northbound car of the defendant ran into a cow belonging to the plaintiff, near a curve in the tracks on the Brown farm, through which the railway runs. The cow had been out grazing along the high way the day before and was out the morning in question as early as 7 o'clock. The plaintiff claims he did not know they were, or had been, out until after the accident. It was shown that Mr. Young knew of the defective fence and did not fix it until after the accident.

Going Fast The car was going at least thirty miles an hour at the time it struck the cow. It was proven that car number 8, or "Wisconsin," which did the damage, weighed approximately twenty-seven feet in length over all; that its equipment is the most modern and complete; and that about one thousand feet is the least possible distance within which such a car might be stopped, assuming the rails to be wet.

The jury in the case took a view of the premises Friday afternoon, so they had a fairly good idea of the situation. Two witnesses who were at least forty rods distant and in a position where they could see scarcely more than the head end of the car, testified that the car stopped and started up again and pushed the cow off the track. This was denied by four witnesses for the defendant.

The following special question was submitted by Judge Dunwiddie to the jury, and they answered it in the negative: "Did the defendant company's motorman or employee in charge of the car, in question at the time in question, willfully and intentionally chase the cow ahead of the car along the track until they struck it and knocked it off the track?"

Important Decision The case is of much more importance than it would appear to be upon first blush. First: It would appear to give notice to farmers, living along the line of an electric railway, that they must be more careful with their fences and prevent their stock from getting upon the highway or upon the right of way of the railway.

Second: That the railway is only required to use such care in the running of its cars as an ordinary person would under similar circumstances. The motorman have no right to assume that any one's stock is on the track, but if a cow or horse or other animal is discovered, it is the motorman's duty to use ordinary diligence to stop the car and avoid killing or maiming the animal.

Even though the railway company may be negligent, if the owner of the stock is negligent also, it may prevent his recovery. J. J. Cunningham appeared as attorney for the plaintiff, while the defendant was represented by Thos. S. Nolan, its general counsel.

Taken to Mendota: Olie Whistler, a prosperous Rock county farmer, is again receiving treatment at the hospital for the insane at Mendota. He had been acting in a peculiar manner of late and it was deemed advisable to take him to the asylum before any injury was done.

Deputy Sheriff Parker and Horatio Nelson took him there. Whistler was discharged from the asylum some years ago after being declared insane.

Hunters Unfortunate: Word has been received from Dr. St. John, who with William Appleby, Mr. Schwartz, and other Janesville and eloit men, is camping on the trail of deer in Forest county, to the effect that hunting has not been very good. The doctor has been just one and the others have not been so fortunate. Mr. Appleby has been sick during most of the outing. He was lost for an entire day in a swamp, during a heavy snow storm the first week of the trip.

MILTON AVE. HOUSE FLOODED SATURDAY

George J. Powell is the First Victim of Frozen Water Pipes—Damage is Large.

In passing George J. Powell's residence, 129 Milton avenue, on their way home from a dance shortly after midnight Saturday evening, the Misses Schnell noticed a stream of water issuing from the side of the house near the second floor, and pouring down into a large pool on the porch. Few conjectures were necessary to determine what had happened. The young ladies hastened to call on the residence of Dr. Powell by telephone and inform him what had happened.

Plumber is Awakened The latter had just returned from a hunting trip and was very weary but he hastened to arouse a plumber and the two proceeded to his brother's house. Upon entering they found the place in a terrible state. The pipe had broken in the bathroom on the second floor and the water, soaking through the floors and walls had formed a pond several inches deep in the parlor and sitting room.

Much Damage Was Done The rugs were, of course, submerged; the wall-paper in both rooms had been loosened and was hanging from the walls; and a piano in one corner of the room had been ruined, so far as its exterior appearance was concerned. George Powell went on a hunting trip to Star Lake two weeks ago and left the water turned on in the house. The recent cold snap froze the pipes and during the succeeding mild weather the ice melted and burst them. It is thought that the water had been pouring into the house for twelve or fifteen hours when discovered. The damage is likely to amount to several hundred dollars.

Damage Case Against the City Dismissed—Man Wanted Big Sum for Broken Leg.

August W. Mollwitz, of the town of Milton, who filed suit against the city of Janesville for $2,000 damages called to appear when the case was called in the circuit court Saturday and it was immediately dismissed by Judge Dunwiddie. The damages were claimed on account of injuries received by the plaintiff due to a defective pavement on East Milwaukee street. His leg was broken as a result of his wagon wheel getting into a hole in the street and throwing him to the ground. Rogers & Rogers, of Milton, were attorneys for the plaintiff, but they likewise failed to appear when the case was called.

BASKET BALL AT THE Y. M. C. A. GYM.

Saturday's Games Prove Very Interesting to the Many Players of the League.

Last Saturday morning the last of the games of the Y. M. C. A. Junior basketball were played. The Red's succeeded in winning their four games while the Whites and Blues each won and lost 3. In this short schedule a fine spirit of friendly rivalry has been shown which will increase the interest in the longer schedule now to be started. Tonight after the regular class an athletic contest will be held between the different grades. The events are running high kick and standing hop, step and jump. The association basketball team is about to be organized and some fine games will be played this winter.

GAS LIGHT PLANT NOW FOR MILTON

ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION FOR NEW CONCERN.

THREE MEN INCORPORATORS

Business Booming in the Two Towns—Prospects Good for Next Year.

Milton and Milton Junction are to have a gas lighting plant. Articles of incorporation were filed this morning at the register of deeds' office at the courthouse describing the purpose, plans and management of the Milton Gas Light company. The capital stock is $20,000, $100 being the par value of the shares.

Well Known Men The incorporators of the new concern are M. C. Whitford, James P. Gago and G. Peterson. The purposes of the company are to take up the lines of work ordinarily handled by such a company and to sell the by-products of the plant and allowing them to buy and sell piping and other fixtures necessary.

Three Stockholders Trustees In the articles of organization three general officers are provided for, a president, secretary and treasurer, and a board of trustees is to be elected, consisting of three stockholders.

Towns Are Growing Milton is already equipped with an electric lighting plant and with the additional light-giving facilities, the two villages should appear like respectable towns. It is understood that the buildings for the plant are to be located near the junction.

Business Good The new company is thought to be but a sign of general prosperity in the two towns as business has been on the increase there this fall. There is prospect that by spring a number of new enterprises will be launched. Several new dwelling houses and stores are to go up as soon as the weather permits.

BREAKFAST FOODS

There are still a few people who insist that there is no virtue in breakfast foods. This is a mistake. It is not to be wondered at, for Noah was told that he was foolish for taking his family into the Ark when it began to rain. Because you did not like Force is no reason you will not like Vigor, and if you should find Vigor was not satisfactory perhaps you will like Cream of Wheat. I sell it different brands. ONE OF THE BEST GAMES OF YEAR

Janesville Sends Beloit Home Defeated—Poor Decision by Official.

Those who were present at Athletic park Saturday saw an exciting game and one that was in some respects, better than any gridiron struggle that has taken place here this year. At one time the score looked rather blue for the local team with five to nothing in favor of Beloit and the first half over.

Then when play began a touchdown was made by the Bower City eleven, made by a long run from the middle of the field, too, the chance of winning was brighter. But the official from Beloit objected to the play and his team stuck by him. The claim was that the ball was taken from one of the Line City players and that the whistle had blown. Many on the field agreed that the ball was free on the ground and was picked up by one of the Janesville team who got away from the bunch and made the touchdown. After considerable argument, the local men decided to play out the game, although the decision seemed unfair. They decided to win, too, and it took them but a very few minutes to show Beloit that they could do it. They went down the field carrying the Line City boys in front of them and made another touchdown without trouble. The score was then even and the excitement ran high and when Galbraith kicked goal the yell ing exceeded demonstrations made at any previous games. Milthore was the powerful factor in getting the ball over the line. Locke and Galbraith did fine and in the second half the whole team played with determination that would have soon sunk Ft. Atkinson or Kaukauna or any other eleven into oblivion.

 "Are ye list'ning?" Mike inquired, seeing that Darcie was crying his eyes out in a meditative way. "Because ye are not, I'll not waste me breath."
 "Go on," said Darcie. "I was only comparing what I have said myself with what you are saying. It's odd we should look at it in the same way. You're a hot-headed Irishman, like all the rest of them, Mike. Why aren't you swearing vows against the oppressors?"

"Because I'm wan av thim meself. It's not a hobo I am, packin' me blankets from camp to camp. I've a shikake av me own in the country; and if this foolishness goes on, I'm elane ruined. There's no man can run a mine in the Cor de Lane, nor sell it, av he was to give it away—the gait things is goin' now."

"Ah, it's not a question av the miner at all! They wants to run things here the same as they does in Montany. Ye wouldn't believe the power av the union in Butte. Things was gettin' mighty queer last spring before the mine-owners tuk the defensive. Faith, there was little law in the Cor de Lanes that could howld above the law av the union!"

"Whin Hogan, the shifboss, was murdered in the Caltrap mine—stabbed in the breast wid the prong av a miner's can't-shick, an' him comin' out o' the tunnel to the dhrin' house in broad day—there was plenty that saw it; but him that done it was a union man, an' divil a witness e'd be found to say he seen it. They wouldn't dast, for the union can protect its own, be they lambs or wolves. The hand av it was that heavy on the owners, a man couldn't be seen spakin' in' frindly on the street with wan av them but the union tuk note av him for a traitor. There was not a thing the mines e'd do but combine, or quit business, or be dictated to by the union bosses, like childer! Last autumn, whin the mines shut down by common consent, it was partly to get better rates for transportation; but that wouldn't go down with the union boys. They had it the owners had, turned the tables on them, and gone on a strike themselves; and that wouldn't do, ye know; for the first principle av the unions is that nobody shall combine but themselves."

"Well, the shuttin' down didn't work in all ways as they hoped. Fightin' it out is bad; whichever side makes the lick, the wrong ones is sure to get hurt. The best men av it seekin' work where they could find it; the wans that shayed an' growled, they was the worst av the lot, and all winter they was cussin' an' blowin' an' gettin' up shiteam for a big fight. Take a town full av idle men, an' free whisky down in' by the gallon, and a set av bull-headed clumps that never did an honest day's work in their lives talkin' about the wrongs av the lab'r in' man—ye know what'll be the end of that."

"The mines gev out in the spring they was ready to resume, and published their scale av wages: three for unskilled miners, the same as it was at first. And then the union put forth its last word: every man workin' under ground sh'd get three fifty and no man sh'd take less and work wid his life in the Cor de Lane. 'Twas then the owners shied their hat into the ring, and both sides shtripped for fight."

"'Twas aisy bringin' in men that was willin' to work for three dollars, and glad to get it, but it wasn't aisy keepin' them here. They couldn't hide the life they led, with the union puttin' its shpite on them. Some was reduced into 'jinn', but more was scared out av the country entirely. They leaked away faster than they was fetched in; and thim that stayed was that harassed an' worried they couldn't do their work like min."

"At last there was two boys workin' in the 'Tale o' Woe' that had the sand to say they would nather fine nor quit. They stud out an' tuk their punishment. Wan av them was an Amerikin, and he was eliver wid his talk about his rights to work where he pleased, and for who he pleased, under the laws av the country, widout Fave av the brotherhoods. But they quined him and his prattle about his rights. Him and the other lad that was workin' wid him, they haled up the mountain by a long trail."

"Where are ye takin' us?" says they. "We'll go out p'acful, the way we come in, by the railroad."

"Ye might get hurted that way," says big Dan Rafferty, pokin' his ugly fun at thim. "Wallace and Gem is full av excited min; it might not be safe for ye. We'll take ye by a quiet road where ye'll meet wid no wan."

 "And they prodded the boys up the mountain, abusin' thim all the way; two hundred men drivin' two—battin' on the wids wid shickles, and cussin' thim wid every foul name they could turn their tongue to. They shoved them out over the Montany divide, and the clothes half tore off them wid the handlin' they got. 'Twas the month av April, an' the snows was cruel deep. They put them out on a forsaken road to wally through the drifts forty-fivemiles to Thompson's falls, and they strangers to the way. There's nare a house but wan, an' that wan closed ag'inst them for fear of the union."

"And that's how wan lab'r in' man teaches another who are his bosses in this free country. By the Lord above! if I come to have bosses over me, I'll not choose them wid the heart av an owl and the head av a han'shikpel. Do they think they're doin' the lab'r in' man any good by such blaggard work as this? Faith, I think we're like to have a labor inquisition here, if things goes on. 'Tis too much power to put in the hands av men as ignorant as they is sassy."

"Did the scabs get through?" asked Darcie.

"Wan av thim got through an' testified in court to what I'm tellin' ye; and wid him and other witnesses and affidavits by scores the owners got an injunction laid on the miners' unions, all an' several, for to quit intimidatin' an' conspire in the Cor de Lane. But 'twas no use at all, except to make thim mad; ye might as well shake an old broom at a grizzly bear. Ye know the rest yourself. But that's how guarded train loads av sheen came into the Cor de Lanes; and that's how it is the mines is armed an' barrieded—all but the Big Horn, sole and lone, which never come into the owners' association at all, and gives the union all it asks."

"What reason did Bingham offer, do ye know, for not coming into the association?" asked Darcie.

"He gev the reason that the Big Horn is a vet mine, which it is; but nather the water nor the work in the mine ever kep' the Big Horn boys underground whin the union wanted thim on top. They trots back and forth the same as they owned the mine. Some says the old man's that tied up wid his own foolishness he can't help the way things is goin'. Pether Banning, the foreman that's in since Mither Bingham come, has the pull on him entirely. He's a mighty man in the union, is Pether; an' he's well acquainted wid the sayers av the management. 'Tis he knows all about the commissions the old man has pocketed along av every order for supplies that he gets in; and a costly mine it is to run—for the company—ye may lay your life on that. Times when I was workin' in it, I'd hear outsid that the mine was doin' poorly—not a batt' av ore in sight; whin I'd know meself there was bodies av ore bein' covered up by order av the manager, for reasons that he kep' to himself. Pether Banning is in all that, ye see; so the old man has got to be frinds wid Pether's frinds."

"Come, Mike, don't be scandalous," said Darcie, rising to his feet. "He's a sacker, if you like; a coward, I suspect, an' incapable if ever there was one, but not a common thief and swindler!"
 "Ah, ye know it well enough! 'Tis as public as the winds! The company's far away from the rumor av it, or 'twould have been known before now. The old man's name is rife wid scandals; and how he comes by such a darlin' for his daughter is a thing I can't cipher out meself, niver havin' seen the lady he married—Mrs. Bingham that was."

"We are not discussing the ladies of the management," Darcie demurred.

"Dad, I'm not like a fasset, thim, to be turned on and off wid a twist av the screw," Mike rejoined. "Ye can take me as I come, or I have me alone."

"I'll leave you alone," smiled Darcie, and then was silent for a long while; but he was too restless, apparently, to return to his writing.

Mike had a suspicion that his partner did not sleep much that night—not that he lay awake himself to see; but somebody had been up, burning firewood in unreasonable quantities. Darcie, who never complained of his food, left his breakfast untasted, and Mike ruefully scraped into the fire the whole of a fine boiled potato soaked in ham gravy.

"It's the heart av him shakin' his insides so that he cannot eat. I have been that way meself. Ah, me little Darcie, ye'd better have wait for the docther, or shayed wid the old man and put me to the proof, that has a girl av me own. I think I see ye this minute, Kiddy darlin'; God's blessin' on ye, wheriver ye are!"

IV.

A BROKEN REED.

The threatened notice for Darcie to pack his blankets was not, in his case, delivered in person. It appeared without visible human agency on the outside of the door of the Black Dwarf, and the language was such that it cannot be repeated here.

Darcie and Mike worked close together, and were never unarmed or off their guard. When Mike, two or three days after the storm, was obliged to go to Wallace for supplies, he avoided the railroad track and took the old trail, and Darcie remained in the tunnel, with his Winchester handy, and an ore-car on the track by way of barricade. He was in his working-clothes, but he was not making wages, not even the wages of a trapper, according to company prices. He was still grinding away at that equivocal position from which, as he had volunteered to Miss Bingham, the next eastern mail was to release him. He was already free in intention, and his conscience toward her was clear, but evidence of his previous position was still upon his person in the contents of a certain letter which he had written on the very day before the day that brought her to the cabin. To send it, or not to send it, that was the question. To whom did that letter belong?

"I'm a broken reed," he said aloud, and then he could not help laughing, for he was in a curious case. His meditation went on in the silence somewhat to the following effect:

"I can't do their work; and I won't take their money. They must send out another man; better not send a young one. By Jove, it's rough on the old company! I'm the fourth one, and I've 'succumbed,' as Mike says, like my predecessors. No, hang it—not like my predecessors. I thank the Lord I'm broode-proof, and drink-proof, and proof, at a pinch, against the seductions of the elk and the big-horn in their native wilds. When Singleton came out, the foxy old manager took him hunting. Happy thought: hunt first, investigate afterward. Big time they had. They got so chummy over their camp fire that Singleton felt like a brother to the whole outfit; by the time he'd shot a brace of big-horn and lost his money regularly at poker with the boys, there wasn't a spot on the sun of his regard. It was a simple matter to investigate after that. Took Bingham's word for everything."

WHAT IS DYSPEPSIA?

Extreme Thinness a Symptom—Scientific Way by Which It Can Be Cured.

MI-O-NA cures dyspepsia by the only natural method of giving tone and strength to the digestive organs, soothing and healing the irritated and inflamed conditions, and mingling with the food so that it is more easily assimilated and digested.

Extreme thinness and emaciation is one of the principal symptoms of indigestion, but many of the following symptoms are also in evidence:

Uneasiness at stomach Defects of vision or hearing
 Acidity Flatulency
 Water-brash Heartburn
 Spitting up of food Nausea
 Colic Gripes
 Sensation of weight or heaviness at pit of the stomach
 Stomach Sour taste in mouth
 Diarrhoea
 Constipation
 Sediment in urine
 Night sweats
 Headache
 Cold hands and feet
 Pain under shoulder blade
 Sleeplessness
 Pain between shoulder blades
 Confusion of mind

MI-O-NA will cure dyspepsia. A 50-cent box will give strength and tone to the digestive organs and aid the food to assimilate, while its continued use for a reasonable length of time will bring back natural weight and restore health and strength.

A few days' use of MI-O-NA will show a marked gain in health and in a few weeks the cure will be complete. This is a strong statement, but the People's Drug Co. and King's Pharmacy emphasize it by agreeing to refund your money if MI-O-NA does not do all that is claimed.

DOING THEIR DUTY.

Scores of Janesville Readers Are Learning the Duty of the Kidneys.

To filter the blood is the the kid kidneys' duty. When they fail to do this the kidneys are sick. Backache and many kidney ills follow.

Urinary trouble, diabetes, Doan's Kidney Pills cure them all. Janesville people endorse our claim.

L. Lawrence of 404 S. Franklin St., engineer at the Janesville Electric Light Co., says: "Seven years ago I injured my back by falling through a bridge near Afton into the Rock river. I was on a traction engine, its weight broke through and the whole thing went into the stream. Since that time my back has ached by spells sometimes very severely. If I caught cold it settled in my kidneys and if I brought a strain on my back lifting the result was a bad backache and sharp twinges of pain in my loins. I procured Doan's Kidney Pills and after I used them I was free from backache. I am in better health than any time since falling through the bridge."

Sold for 50 cents per box, by all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

DEDRICK BROS.

FANCY GROCERIES.

We Paid $100,000

For Liquezone—Yet We Give You a 50c. Bottle Free.

This company, after testing Liquezone for two years in the most difficult germ diseases, paid $100,000 for the United States rights. That is by far the highest price ever paid for similar rights on any scientific discovery.

We publish this fact to show you the value of Liquezone. The most worthless product may have great claims made about it; but men don't pay a price like that save for a discovery of remarkable worth to humanity.

Kills Inside Germs.

Liquezone alone kills germs in the body without killing the tissues, too. It is so certain that we publish on every bottle an offer of $1,000 for a disease germ that it cannot kill. Liquezone destroys at once and forever the cause of any germ disease.

And there is no other way to do it. Any drug that kills germs is a poison to you; and it cannot be taken internally. Liquezone alone can attack a trouble that is caused by inside germs; and it cures diseases which medicine never cures.

Liquid Oxygen.

Liquezone is simply liquid oxygen—no drugs, no alcohol in it. It is the discovery of Paul, the great German chemist, who spent 20 years on it. His object was to get such an excess of oxygen in staple form into the blood that no germ could live in any membrane or tissue.

Liquezone does that. Oxygen is Nature's greatest tonic—the very source of vitality. Its effects are exhilarating, purifying, vitalizing. Nothing else in the world is so good for you. But germs are vegetables; and this excess of oxygen—the very life of an animal—is deadly to vegetable matter.

We spent 14 days in making each bottle of Liquezone; but the result is liquid oxygen—a product which will cure diseases which no medical skill can cure without it. It is now employed in every great hospital, and endorsed by every medical authority, the world over.

Germ Diseases.

These are the known germ diseases. All that medicine can do for these troubles is to help Nature overcome the germs, and such results are indirect and uncertain. Liquezone kills the germs, wherever they are, and the results are inevitable. By destroying the cause of the trouble, it invariably ends the disease, and forever.

CATHOLIC UNIVERSITY.

Effort to Organize Church Supporters in Behalf of School.

Washington, Nov. 23.—Since the return of Mgr. Denis J. O'Connell, the rector, there is great activity at the Catholic university. The annual meeting of the board of trustees, which should have been held this month, has been postponed until after Easter in order that the university authorities may have full opportunity to realize the proceeds of the extraordinary collection for the benefit of the university. According to decrees of Pope Pius X and the letter of Cardinal Gibbons, the second Sunday in Advent during the next ten years will be devoted to a special collection in every church and chapel throughout university state that $20,000,000 is annually spent upon the Roman Catholic parochial schools, and that nearly 1,000,000 children are enrolled in these establishments. The church fails to benefit to the fullest extent from this vast investment, because there is no properly equipped post-graduate school for Roman Catholics. The purpose from now on is to organize the whole Roman Catholic body into direct supporters of the Catholic university of America.

ADJOURNMENT IN SIGHT.

Mileage Fees Cut Wide Swath in Closing Extra Session.

Washington, Nov. 23.—Mileage allowance is an influential argument now being used to induce some con-

An agreement will probably be reached in the senate for taking a vote upon the Cuban bill about the middle of December. "His will be done provided it will not precipitate a conflict with the house and the president.

By adjourning on Wednesday, an interval of eleven days would intervene between the extra and regular session, not enough time for members from the far West to return to their homes and come back to Washington for the opening of the regular session, on Dec. 7, but time enough to give all members an extra mileage allowance. In the case of some members from the Pacific slope this allowance amounts to $1,500, quite a tidy sum. Most of the opposition to Cuban reciprocity comes from Pacific slope congressmen.

MONDAY, TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY.

Washington, Nov. 23.—Secretary of the Treasury Shaw has nearly completed his annual report. But his suggestions in regard to the currency question will be exceedingly meager, if any are made at all. It is understood that Mr. Shaw is at present disposed to pass over any recommendations on that subject, which would be a departure from recent custom. But, as indicated, he sees no ground for any serious complaint against the existing system, and is disposed to "let well enough alone."

Payne Sees Roosevelt.

Washington, Nov. 23.—Postmaster General Payne was at the White House in conference with the President. It is believed that the report of Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Bristow on the postoffice investigation was under consideration, as when Mr. Payne entered the White House he carried under his arm a large bundle representing an official document.
